ragging a high chair or feeding seat along on a trip is just thatâ€”a drag. But when you think about how hands-on (and mouth-on) babies and toddlers can be in restaurant high chairsâ€”well, suddenly youâ€™re spending every vacation meal with your little one in your lap.

But if you and your little foodie have used and liked a sling or baby carrier, Totseat probably deserves a spot in your diaper bag. Invented by a Scottish â€œmum,” the featherweight Totseat has a Euro sensibility both in its style and simplicity.

The colorful canvas harness fits snugly over the top of a variety of chairs, using straps to adjust the fit, and offering a cummerbund to wrap around the chair-back for extra support. Folded up and back in its carrying case, the squishy Totseat (which comes in a variety of designs) is about the size of a sandwichâ€”and the whole thing can go in the washer after an applesauce explosion.

SUITABLE FOR : 6 mths to 30 mths (- but I doubt a 2.5 yrs kids will like to be tied up on the chair ^O^)
